OFFICIAL PRESENTATION

With much interest from professionals, entrepreneurs and young people we have celebrated the official presentation of the project where they have been discovering the different intellectual products. We have been divulging and informing to more than 50 local and foreign assistants about the Green Mentor methodology. The training videos and all the advantages of this project have been presented to those who want to improve their work as green mentor or want to start a new business related to mentoring in Green and Circular Economy. ## GREEN MENTORING IN ACTION!

The most interesting part of the event was not only to present the project officially, but to create dynamics that favored and generated even more interest in our work by the target public.

In order to do that, we involve renowned national and international mentors such as Agustin Valentin-Gamazo and Nicola Cerantola who offered a practical part in support of the interesting interventions of the partners. It was therefore not only to give information on the current situation or explain the characteristics of intellectual products but to truly captivate attention and facilitate a paradigm shift.

Green change is underway, join the Green Mentor project!
